[REDACTED]
furnished the following information:

He has been a porter with The Pullman Company for 42 years. He is presently 64 years of age. [REDACTED] recalled the incident in June of this year when a passenger from his car was reported to have been arrested in the railroad station in Norman, Oklahoma. [REDACTED] checked records that he keeps at home, finding his records reflect he left Chicago on June 24, 1965, at 6:00 P.M. and was porter on Car 156. [REDACTED] has been porter on this run for a number of years.

[REDACTED] definitely identified a photograph of MURRAY L. HUMPHREYS as a passenger who got on this train in Chicago on June 24, 1965. He had Bedroom A by himself. He boarded the train alone and had only a small cloth-type hand bag. [REDACTED] did not recall this passenger as having any newspaper in his possession. He stated this passenger had ridden to Norman in his car about twice before, and he recalled on one occasion this same passenger rode back to Chicago from Norman. [REDACTED] believed this man might have been a college professor or some sort of instructor. He was always quiet, reserved and had very little to say.

On the trip on June 24, 1965, this passenger went into the bedroom when he boarded the train and did not come out until the next morning when he got off at Norman. He had his dinner brought in from the diner. [REDACTED] made up his bed shortly after dinner and HUMPHREYS retired early. He did not have any visitors on this trip.

[REDACTED] stated the next morning HUMPHREYS got off the train at Norman. He believed one or two women met him and came up and kissed him after he got off the train. He noticed them walk away from the train. [REDACTED] returned to the vestibule of the train and some unknown passenger was standing on the vestibule. This passenger asked [REDACTED] if he knew who that passenger was that left the train.

[REDACTED] replied he did not know who this man was. The passenger replied his name was HUMPHREYS, and he was some kind of leader of rackets in Chicago. This passenger pulled out a newspaper clipping and showed it to [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] glanced at it hurriedly and recalled the clipping said something about this man being from Chicago and was head of some kind of rackets. [REDACTED] was not interested and did not read the article. He also was very busy in getting passengers ready to leave the train that morning. [REDACTED] did not know the name of the passenger but was certain he got on at Chicago and believed he also had a bedroom in his car but could not recall the number of this bedroom. He also believed this man got off the train in Fort Worth. He could only furnish a vague description of this passenger and described him as a white man, around six feet tall and more of a slender build. He did not recall his age or further description.

[REDACTED] was unable to furnish any further information concerning HUMPHREYS or the above individual.

V. PURCHASE BY HUMPHREYS OF
AIRLINE TICKET ON JUNE 24,
1965, PRIOR TO HIS DEPARTURE
FROM CHICAGO CALLING FOR HIS RETURN TO CHICAGO ON JUNE 27, 1965

AUSA SCHIPPERS advised that HUMPHREYS testified on August 10, 1965, apparently to show evidence of his good faith, that prior to his departure from Chicago, he purchased an airline ticket for a flight back to Chicago from Oklahoma City on June 27, 1965.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 8/18/65

[REDACTED] furnished the following information regarding airline reservations for one L. HUMPHREY made on June 24, 1965:

She said it was a counter sale for cash and identified a photograph of MURRAY L. HUMPHREYS as the person who personally purchased the ticket. She said he was at her counter more than once and she is positive it is him because she recalled he was wearing a dark suit, dark glasses and when he removed his glasses his left eye seemed to water.

She said he was carrying no baggage and was alone on the times she took care of him. He did very little talking during the times he was at the counter. She felt certain at the time he was an out of town passenger because he gave a hotel for an address where he could be reached. At first she thought he was a resident of the St. Clair Hotel and he gave Room 609 as his extension where he could be reached by the airlines.

[REDACTED] identified her writing on the "Airline Notes" which contain the necessary data to provide ticket reservations for a passenger. She said the 332F indicates flight number 332 and the F means first class on a jet aircraft. The WL circled after this indicates he was on a waiting list for this flight. This flight leaves Oklahoma City at 8:10 a.m. and arrives at Chicago, Illinois, O'Hare Field, at 11:33 a.m.

With regard to Flight 794A, which like Flight 332F, was for the 27th of June, was a confirmed reservation scheduled to leave Oklahoma City at 3:25 p.m. and due to arrive at O'Hare Field in Chicago at 7:30 p.m.

[REDACTED] said that the number 4-7545, Norman OKC which refers to Norman, Oklahoma, number JE 4-7545, which was given to her by HUMPHREY as a number where he could be reached while in Oklahoma regarding confirmation of his flight.

On 8/12/65 at Chicago, Illinois File # CG 92-348

by SA [REDACTED] Date dictated 8/13/65

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

She then advised that instead of the St. Clair Hotel as she first thought HUMPHREY gave as his address in Chicago, that her notes disclosed that it was the Drake Hotel, telephone number SU 7-2200, extension 609.

She advised further that on June 26, 1965, apparently the El Paso office of American Airlines called the Norman, Oklahoma number of JE 4-7545 to confirm the reservation made by HUMPHREY and the flight was refused by HUMPHREY himself in Norman who answered the phone or by someone acting in his behalf. This call was made at 10:00 a.m. El Paso time. (b)(7)(C)

She said the passenger apparently had his own transportation between Chicago and Norman and did not know by what means he intended to travel or if in fact he had told her. The ticket, which was issued June 24, 1965, was for $51.85 plus $2.59 which totaled $54.44. According to the central reservations office of American Airlines this flight was booked at 10:54 a.m. for the above reservation on Flight 794A. HUMPHREY paid for the ticket in cash and according to [REDACTED] she would have had more identifying data on the passenger had he paid by check.

HUMPHREY had asked specifically for the jet flight which was number 332F and only accepted Flight 794A which is a piston plane flight when she could not get him on 332F.

She also recalled asking him how far Norman, Oklahoma, is from Oklahoma City to which he replied, "not far". [REDACTED] felt that HUMPHREY may have returned later that day, sometime between 1 and 3:00 p.m. for the purpose of seeing if he had been confirmed on Flight 332F, knowing that no one could reach him at extension 609 at the Drake Hotel since it is a non-existent number.

VI. ROYAL BLUE SPORT JACKET WORN BY HUMPHREYS WHEN APPREHENDED

(b)(7)(c)

MURRAY HUMPHREYS was apprehended on June 26, 1965, at Norman, Oklahoma, by SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. These Agents advised that they recall that HUMPHREYS was wearing a royal blue sport coat of soft material with gold colored buttons at the time of his apprehension.

It is noted that, as set out above under the caption Attempt by FBI Agents to Serve Subpoena on HUMPHREYS, June 24, 1965, SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] observed a royal blue sport jacket draped over a chair located in the apartment of HUMPHREYS at the time when they attempted service of the subpoena on HUMPHREYS on June 24, 1965. AUSA SCHIPPERS noted that this appears significant in that HUMPHREYS testified that he did not return to his apartment following his departure therefrom on the morning of June 24, 1965, until he was returned to Chicago by United States Marshals on June 28, 1965. AUSA SCHIPPERS noted that if HUMPHREYS was wearing the royal blue sport coat observed by SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] when apprehended, this would tend to indicate that he perjured himself when he testified that he was not in his apartment upon the arrival of SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] with the subpoena calling for his appearance before the FGJ on June 25, 1965.

VII. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED], NORMAN,
OKLAHOMA, ON MAY 14, 1965

AUSA SCHIPPERS advised that in his testimony of August 10, 1965, HUMPHREYS claimed that the reason for his travel to Norman, Oklahoma, was to care for [REDACTED]

CG 74-217

(b)(7)(c)
[REDACTED] since he had been advised by his former wife that his presence there was needed to deal with this situation.
However, HUMPHREYS later testified he made no attempt to contact or visit [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] while in Oklahoma on June 25 and 26, 1965.

[REDACTED]

VIII. POSSIBILITY THAT HUMPHREYS COULD HAVE LEARNED, THROUGH NEWS MEDIA
ON JUNE 25, 1965, THAT HIS PRESENCE
HAD BEEN DESIRED BEFORE FGJ IN CHICAGO THAT DAY

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 10/5/651

[REDACTED] Oklahoma City, advised he had been able to contact [REDACTED] who announced the 10 p.m. news broadcast on June 25, 1965, from Oklahoma City, although [REDACTED] is out of the state. He stated [REDACTED] recalled a Video tape story which had been obtained from their network concerning the failure of MURRAY HUMPHREYS to appear before a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, Illinois. This tape appeared on the broadcast and was seen in the Oklahoma City area.

stated he had been unable to find any record of a T.V. broadcast made by that station at the 6 p.m. news broadcast on June 25, 1965, indicating MURRAY HUMPHREYS was being sought by the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, Illinois, for appearance before that body. He stated he had been unable to find record of the 10 p.m. news broadcast, but felt certain they would not have carried such a story on the 10 p.m. broadcast if it had not been carried on the 6 p.m. broadcast.

[REDACTED] stated that Radio Station WBBM, Chicago, a clear channel station, can be heard in the Oklahoma City area at all hours of the day and night. He also thought Radio Station WGN, Chicago, could be heard in the Oklahoma City area.

On September 30, 1965, MARY CLEMM BRENDLE HUMPHREYS was recontacted telephonically by SA [REDACTED]. Again she refused to agree to personal contact by a representative of the FBI. However, she telephonically advised she could not recall having called her former husband for any reason immediately prior to June 24, 1965, during which time she might have told him to come to Norman in an emergency or making any call to HUMPHREYS for any such purpose or any other.

In response to a specific question, she stated she may have been in error when she previously stated HUMPHREYS called her from the Santa Fe railroad depot on June 25, 1965, and asked her to come and get him, since she recalled seeing him get off the train, which indicated she knew of his coming. She now believes, on recollection, that someone, but not HUMPHREYS, called her from Chicago the night of June 24, 1965, and told her to meet the train to pick up HUMPHREYS. She stated she cannot recall the identity of that person.

After a brief struggle, the Federal Bureau of Investigation agents disarmed Humphreys before he could fire a from his .38-caliber revolver.

He was handcuffed and arrested on a charge of lying to a federal grand jury investigating the crime syndicate.

A search of the apartment, agents found $25,000 in a Federal prosecutors ordered the agents to seize the money.

Humphreys, the crime syndicate's fixer, was charged with perjury in an indictment voted Tuesday by a federal grand jury.

The indictment was supported in U.S. District Court by a warrant issued for the arrest of Humphreys. He was taken with the warrant to the agents who arrested him.

Republic, in 1964 on the convening of a conference to which all countries would be invited.

To overcome objections from Peking, the resolution contains no specific reference to a UN role in setting up the conference. Peking has ruled out attendance under UN auspices as long as the UN door remains closed to Red China.

the agents broke through the door.

Humphreys confronted them with the .38-caliber revolver in his hand.

Two agents quickly wrested the gun from Humphreys and put manacles on him.

Humphreys was believed to have attempted to put up a fight in an effort to forestall a search of his apartment.

The FBI acted on the presumption that his arrest in the apartment gave agents the legal right to search for evidence connected with the perjury case.

Report Records There

Humphreys reportedly has his records in a closet of the apartment.

The apartment is wired with burglar alarms that Humphreys reportedly often touches off by mistake, alarming other Marina City residents.

The investigation that led to Humphreys' indictment — like the crime syndicate grand jury inquiry — was conducted by Asst. U.S. Attorneys David Schippers and Sam J. Betar.

Schippers is the chief of an organized crime prosecution unit.

Called Before Jury

The indictment charged Humphreys with perjury in his testimony about his flight from Chicago last June to avoid a grand jury appearance.

Humphreys fled from Chicago to Norman, Okla., apparently in fear that he might suffer the fate of the syndicate boss, Momo Salvatore (Moe) Giancana.

Giancana was jailed June 1 for defying the grand jury by refusing to testify after being granted immunity.

On June 23, Humphreys was summoned to appear before the grand jury. He was arrested June 26 by the FBI in Oklahoma.

Humphreys Pulls A Gun On FBI In Marina City Fight

Asked About Rackets

Humphreys was called before the grand jury again on Aug. 10 for questioning about syndicate rackets and his flight from Chicago in June.

Humphreys, who prides himself on his ability to steer a course around the law, elected to talk to the grand jury on Aug. 10, rather than refuse to answer questions like Giancana.

But the indictment voted by the grand jury Tuesday charged that Humphreys lied when he testified that:

- 1 He did not know, when he left Chicago in June, that the grand jury had summoned him again as a witness.
- 2 On June 24, he was not hiding from FBI agents seeking to serve him with the grand jury subpoena.
- 3 He was not in his Marina City apartment on June 24 after he had purchased airline tickets for the trip to Oklahoma.

The indictment showed that the government would attempt to prove that Humphreys knew the grand jury had called him, and that he hid from FBI agents and was in his apartment after buying the airline tickets.

The Latest Pitfall

If Humphreys is convicted on the perjury charge, he could be sent to prison for five years and fined $2,000.

The perjury indictment was the latest pitfall for the 66-year-old Humphreys, whose reputation as a fixer has been damaged in the government's investigation of the syndicate.

The grand jury inquiry resulted in the disclosure in federal court of the transcript of Humphreys' questioning before the jury.

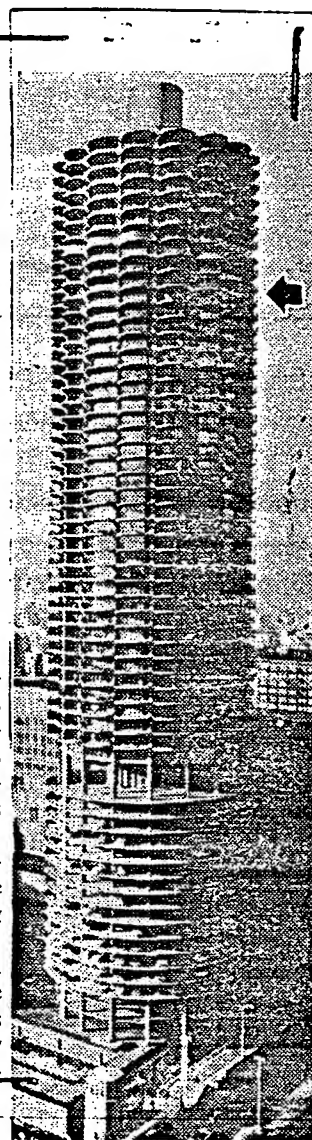

Haggles With Jurors

Federal prosecutors requested that secrecy be lifted on the transcript to show that Humphreys had been attempting to parry the grand jury's questions and had been haggling with the jurors.

The questions in the transcript revealed that prosecutors Schippers and Betar had interrogated Humphreys about his alleged fixing of gangster prosecutions and his meetings with syndicate bosses.

To those questions, Humphreys consistently invoked the Fifth Amendment, claiming fear of self-incrimination.

But the perjury indictment disclosed that he had given the grand jury a lecture — thus snaring himself in the perjury case — in attempting to explain his trip to Oklahoma.

Gang Deals Disclosed by Thug's Data

By Sandy Smith

Chicago Sun Times

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 — Records of gangland deals were found in the safe of Murray (the camel) Humphreys, the crime syndicate fixer who died Tuesday, it has been learned.

Government officials said his records contained his notations of investments up to $60,000, income tax deals in five-figure amounts, and the payments he received on loans of more than $50,000.

Humphreys presumably made the loans to the gang's front men to gain secret interests in legitimate enterprises, the Federal sources reported.

The records kept by Humphreys were seized Tuesday by FBI agents. They were found in Humphreys' closet safe after the agents arrested the gangster in a struggle in his 51st-floor apartment in Marina City, a luxury development on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Accused of Perjury

Humphreys died of a heart attack a few hours after his battle with the agents, who arrested him on a warrant charging perjury before a Federal grand jury.

Seized by the agents along with Humphreys' records was $22,600.

The records were filled with names of his associates in and out of the mob, as well as those of a state legislator and a multimillionaire real estate developer and insurance executive.

Why Humphreys had the name and address of the legislator was a mystery. Government sources said the legislator was a strong backer of anti-crime bills opposed by Humphreys.

IRS Investigation

At the time of Humphreys' death, the Internal Revenue Service was investigating a $42,000 windfall he received in a stock deal engineered by the real estate developer. Humphreys had been assessed taxes and penalties of $78,800 on the stock deal.

In the wake of Humphreys' death, there were the following developments:

- Federal officials disclosed that the crime syndicate had selected three gangsters to take over Humphreys' interests in labor rackets, the courts and the Illinois General Assembly. Humphreys' successors were identified by the Government officials as Gus (Slim) Alex, Ralph Pierce and Les (Killer Kane) Kruse.

- U.S. Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan said FBI agents would have been justified in shooting Humphreys Tuesday when he brandished a gun and threatened to kill the agents.

Humphreys resisted arrest by biting one agent on the hand and kicking the others, Hanrahan said.

Humphreys was warned by the agents to drop his gun," said Hanrahan. "Finally, he did so. He would have been killed but for the extraordinary tolerance and excellent judgment of the FBI agents."

- An autopsy disclosed that Humphreys died of a heart attack. Coroner Andrew Toman delayed a decision on an inquest until completion of tests for traces of poisons or barbiturates.

The Federal investigations now aimed at Alex, Pierce and Kruse were the undoing of Humphreys as the fixer for the gang.

Humphreys' advice on legal strategy was unquestioned in the mob—until he blundered in the Federal grand jury investigation that resulted in the perjury case against him.

To avoid an appearance before the grand jury, Humphreys fled from Chicago last June. The FBI arrested him 48 hours later in Oklahoma. His explanation to the jury of why he left town produced the perjury indictment against him.

While SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were dining in the Pittsfield Restaurant located in the basement of the Pittsfield Building at 55 East Washington, at approximately 12:15 PM, on September 15, 1965, RALPH PIERCE came into the restaurant and upon observing the agents, asked permission to join them. He thereupon had lunch with the agents and the following conversation took place from 12:15 PM until approximately 2:10 PM:

PIERCE advised that he is bothered by an acute arthritic condition, inasmuch as this affliction has settled in his spine with the result that he has extreme difficulty from time to time in straightening up. He has also advised that he has trouble with his sciatica nerve. He stated that previously he has had great difficulty with his fingers, in that he suffered from an arthritic condition, but that recently his condition has alleviated itself. He advised, however, that he is attempting to purchase a paraffin machine in order to provide home treatment for this condition. PIERCE also indicated that he has had bursitis in his shoulder and upper arm, but that this condition has recently improved. PIERCE indicated that he had been able to play golf at the Oak Hills Golf Course on 130th Street, in Chicago, until the arthritic condition in his spine flared up.

PIERCE also advised that his wife, DOROTHY, is in delicate health and that her physical problems have resulted in emotional problems with the result that she takes a great deal of his care and attention.

PIERCE also advised that on the previous weekend he had been in East Philadelphia, Ohio, where his brother, who had been caring for his hunting dogs, died and was buried. PIERCE indicated that although he has made frequent trips to East Philadelphia, Ohio, in the last ten or twenty years, he has no more relatives living there and due to his condition has disposed of his dogs with the result that he does not foresee any further travel to this area.

(b)(7)(c)

PIERCE advised that he continues to be upset with the fact that Chicago newspapers link him with every bookmaking establishment, bookmaker and gambler on the south side of Chicago, and in the southern suburbs. He stated that the situation has developed to such an extent that everytime he hears there has been a gambling raid on the south side of Chicago, he expects that he will be linked with it. He stated this publicity usually concerns allegations that he is the "boss" of organized crime on the south side of Chicago. PIERCE claimed, however, that there has never been any attempt on the part of "those guys" to organize gambling on the south side of Chicago, and that since there has never been such an organization, there has never been a "boss" on the south side. When he was informed that it is difficult for one to believe that the rest of the City of Chicago and the suburbs of Chicago have been organized and the south side has been left alone by the leaders of organized crime, PIERCE remained adamant that this was the situation. PIERCE was especially vehement that he has never had anything to do with the policy or numbers racket which flourishes among the Negro people on the south side. He claims that he knows nothing whatsoever about policy. PIERCE specifically denied that he has any control over the bookmaking activities, if any, of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. When questioned about his association with [REDACTED] PIERCE advised that he has never had any association with him and only knows him due to the fact that both frequent Jenny's Restaurant on South Stony Island Avenue, in Chicago. When questioned concerning any association with [REDACTED] PIERCE denied that he has associated in any capacity with [REDACTED] but does know [REDACTED] who formerly was associated with some of the older bookmakers in Chicago.

(b)(7)(c)

PIERCE readily admitted association with MURRAY HUMPHREYS, LESLIE KRUSE and [REDACTED]. He denied that he is a member of any organization which includes those individuals, however, and advised that his association with these people is strictly for "social" purposes. He also denied that he is associated with those three individuals for the purpose of plotting strategy which is used whenever a member of organized crime is under prosecution, or strategy to be used in the corruption of local law enforcement officers, members of the Judiciary, other public officers, or members of the Illinois General Assembly.

PIERCE admitted that he had just left the company of KRUSE when he arrived at the Pittsfield Building.

PIERCE advised that his most frequent hangouts are the Pittsfield Building Restaurant where he has lunch several times a week, and Jenny's Restaurant on South Stony Island Avenue. PIERCE indicated that he is very friendly with [REDACTED] the owner of Jenny's Restaurant, and had been advised by [REDACTED] that he had been interviewed concerning his relationship with PIERCE, by SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

PIERCE also indicated that he and his associates are upset due to the fact that the Federal Government not only sent SAM GIANCANA to jail for "something nobody has ever been sent there before for", but that "you can't leave him alone even when he is in the can", and instead continually "stir things up" by conducting investigations to determine whether some one associated with the jail is providing comforts to GIANCANA. PIERCE indicated that he considers this cruel and unusual punishment since the incarceration of GIANCANA was under procedure which is unprecedented and that the government "can't just be satisfied with this, you have to keep everything stirred up so everybody is afraid to be nice to him there".

PIERCE also launched a discussion of the "treatment" of HUMPHREYS by the Federal Government. PIERCE advised that he knows that MURRAY HUMPHREYS left the Chicago area to visit Norman, Oklahoma, strictly to care for [REDACTED] and that he had no ulterior motive in mind such as evading a subpoena. PIERCE also advised that he knows HUMPHREYS has great respect for certain agents of the FBI, and that had one of these agents attempted to communicate with him before a receipt of the subpoena in order to make arrangements so that HUMPHREYS would have been available later for the service of the subpoena, "none of this would have happened". Even so, PIERCE said, the thing that upset HUMPHREYS most about the entire situation was the fact that photographers were called.

PIERCE indicated that he had recently attended the wake in honor of the death of BERTON STONE, recently deceased former owner of the Stone Bonded Distributing Company. He identified STON as being a life long friend of MURRAY HUMPHREYS and of HUMPHREYS' close associate [REDACTED]

When questioned concerning the source of his current income, PIERCE claimed that he has no income at this time. He stated that until recently he has reported on his income tax returns, income from wagering on sporting events. However, he claimed, possibly in jest, he now intends to file returns "no income". PIERCE indicated on several occasions that he and his associates have become increasingly provoked by the recent writings of "Chicago Sun Times" reporter SANDY SMITH. PIERCE indicated that all of his associates are concerned with the way SMITH "goes out of his way" to attempt to ridicule and "smear" these people.

On several occasions PIERCE attempted to lead the conversation into plans which the government may have for further proceedings before the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, however, after some time he agreed that it was "useless" to attempt this topic of conversation.

(b)(7)(c)

At no time did PIERCE admit that he was a member of organized crime or that there was any organization of hoodlums or criminals in the Chicago area. The closest he came to this was when he attempted to explain that he is not the "boss" of organized crime on the south side of Chicago, inasmuch as no effort has been made by "those guys" to organize crime on the south side in differentiation from the organizational activities which have taken place in other parts of Chicago, the west side in particular. Specifically, PIERCE conceded that FIORE "FIFI" BUCCIERI may have organized books on a "fifty-fifty" basis on the west side of Chicago, but remained steadfast that no such attempt has been made to organize bookmakers on the south side of Chicago. He refused to discuss whether [redacted] and [redacted] have ever organized Negro policy operators on the south side of Chicago.

PIERCE emphatically denied that he has had any association or involvement whatsoever in the [redacted] situation, or in the involvement of [redacted] when he bribed members of the Seattle University basketball team to "shave points". He advised that he not only has never met [redacted] but that he has never met [redacted] who has been identified as a bookmaker for [redacted] PIERCE admitted that he knows [redacted] well, but denied that he is associated with [redacted] in any capacity.

RAY "BOOKIE" JONES

(b)(7)(c):(D)

[REDACTED] identified RAYMOND "BOOKIE" JONES as being an old associate of MURRAY HUMPHREYS. This informant indicated that HUMPHREYS and JONES were associated during the 1940s and 1950s in the operation of racewire service to Chicago area bookmakers. This informant also advised that he is aware that JONES has met with HUMPHREYS on infrequent occasions during the past two or three years.

On October 22, 1965, SA [REDACTED] learned that JONES was now residing with a niece named [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] in Westchester, Illinois. On October 22, 1965, SA ROEMER attempted to conduct an interview of JONES concerning the nature of his association with HUMPHREYS. However, this interview was terminated after approximately two minutes when it was determined that JONES is almost totally blind, cannot control his movements, apparently is suffering from a stroke and appears to be senile. He also is constantly attended by a private nurse.

[REDACTED] advised that he has observed MURRAY HUMPHREYS enter the office building at 10 North LaSalle on several occasions during October and November, 1965. This informant advised that the last occasion was on November 2, 1965. This informant speculated that HUMPHREYS has been visiting the office of Chicago Attorney [REDACTED] whom he identified as a Chicago Attorney formerly employed by the Regional Office of the Internal Revenue Service in Chicago. This informant was unable to furnish any reasons for the visits of HUMPHREYS to the office of [REDACTED]

(H)(7)(C):(D)

[REDACTED] advised that he has observed that it is almost the daily custom of HUMPHREYS to go from his residence in Marina City to the Office of [REDACTED] at 77 West Washington in Chicago. This informant advised that HUMPHREYS spends less than ten or fifteen minutes in [REDACTED] office when he and [REDACTED] almost daily then walk to Plato's Place Restaurant located on the northwest corner of Randolph and Dearborn in Chicago.

[REDACTED] advised that he has observed that HUMPHREYS almost daily meets [REDACTED] at Plato's Place. He advised that it is then the custom of HUMPHREYS, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] to have breakfast at [REDACTED] place around 10:00 a.m. At approximately 10:30 a.m. [REDACTED] returns to his office while HUMPHREYS and [REDACTED] frequently leave Plato's Place together and go elsewhere.

Attention is directed to the information set out above under the caption "Presentation of Evidence before the Federal Grand Jury in the Perjury Case Against HUMPHREYS" wherein it is described that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were subpoenaed as witnesses before the Federal Grand Jury. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] appeared before the Federal Grand Jury on October 27, 1965. Both [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] invoked the first, fourth, fifth and ninth amendments in refusing to answer any questions other than their name and address. It is noted that [REDACTED] was identified by HUMPHREYS when HUMPHREYS testified before the Grand Jury on August 10, 1965, as being the person who purchased a railroad ticket for HUMPHREYS on the "Texas Chief" of the Santa Fe Railroad which left Chicago enroute to Norman, Oklahoma at 7:00 p.m. central daylight time on June 24, 1965. [REDACTED] has identified [REDACTED] as being a Chicago entertainer whose affairs are managed by [REDACTED] and who resides with [REDACTED] at 65 East Oak Street.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] identified the Hoe Kow Restaurant at 73 East Lake Street as being one of the favorite meeting places of MURRAY HUMPHREYS and his associates in organized crime, during the period 1959 through early 1965. [REDACTED] advised, however, that HUMPHREYS and his associates discontinued the use of this restaurant as a meeting place when they suspected that their meetings there were known to law enforcement agencies in Chicago.

SA [REDACTED] advised that he observed MURRAY HUMPHREYS enter the rear entrance of the Hoe Kow Restaurant at 73 East Lake Street at 11:35 a.m., on November 8, 1965.

[REDACTED] has advised, and this information has been confirmed by SA [REDACTED] that at the present time one of the favorite practices of MURRAY HUMPHREYS is to attempt to determine whether he is under physical surveillance by law enforcement agencies and in this regard one of his most used maneuvers is to enter the Washington Street entrance of the Chicago Title and Trust Company at 111 West Washington in the Loop area of Chicago. It is noted that there are seven entrances and exits to and from this building and that a person can enter the building on Washington Street and exit on Clark, LaSalle, or Madison Streets, and vice versa. [REDACTED] also advised that there are several public phones located in the Chicago Title and Trust Company and that it is HUMPHREYS' practice to use these phones to make telephone calls and to receive telephone calls.

[REDACTED] advised that MURRAY HUMPHREYS is an infrequent visitor to the Randolph Towers Office Building located at 188 West Randolph Street in Chicago. This informant advised that although several of HUMPHREYS associates in organized crime visit the offices of Chicago Attorneys BIEBER and BRODKIN in that building and also frequent Postl's Health Club, also located in that building, HUMPHREYS appears there only on a very infrequent basis.

VI. TRAVEL OF MURRAY HUMPHREYS

(b)(7)(C);(D)

Hot Springs, Arkansas

[REDACTED] advised that MURRAY L. HUMPHREYS checked into the Hotel Majestic in Hot Springs, Arkansas, on October 10, 1965, as L. HUMPHREYS, 200 North State, Chicago, Illinois, and indicated that he would remain there until October 26, 1965.

[REDACTED] advised that during the course of his stay in Hot Springs, Arkansas, HUMPHREYS resided in Room 793 of the Hotel Majestic and that although that room had two king-size beds, HUMPHREYS was the only individual occupying the room. This source advised that he did not observe HUMPHREYS in the presence of any other individuals in Hot Springs and that it appeared that he spent his entire time taking thermal baths and sitting in the Hotel Majestic lobby.

[REDACTED] advised that LESLIE KRUSE, above, arrived at the Arlington Hotel in Hot Springs, Arkansas, on October 7, 1965, with his wife. [REDACTED] was in contact with KRUSE on a daily basis during his stay in Hot Springs and that KRUSE spent most of his time each day playing golf and taking thermal baths. VII. MISCELLANEOUS

(H)(7)(C):(D)

Reaction of HUMPHREYS to Publicity Regarding the Grand Jury Investigation of Him

On November 8, 1965, EDWARD C. RYAN, above, approached SA [REDACTED] and SA [REDACTED] in the Marshall Field Annex Building. During the course of conversation with these agents RYAN indicated that HUMPHREYS is extremely upset with the publicity which resulted following the appearance of RYAN and Miss PEARL EDDY before the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago on October 27, 1965. RYAN indicated that HUMPHREYS is particularly upset due to the fact that the way the newspaper articles were written indicated that HUMPHREYS and Miss EDDY are romantically attached and that HUMPHREYS has provided assistance to the career of Miss EDDY.

RYAN also indicated that he and HUMPHREYS are very upset due to the fact that an article written by "Chicago Sun-Times" newspaper reporter MAX SONDERBY and SANDY SMITH indicate that RYAN is a contactman between HUMPHREYS and FRANK "BUSTER" WORTMAN. [REDACTED] has identified WORTMAN as being the leader of organized crime in the downstate Illinois area and as a close associate of HUMPHREYS.

[REDACTED] has also advised that MURRAY HUMPHREYS is very upset and angered over the publicity which followed the appearance of EDWARD C. RYAN and PEARL EDDY before the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago on October 27, 1965. This informant advised that HUMPHREYS considers that the articles written concerning the appearance of RYAN and EDDY was very "unfair" in that it appeared to indicate that HUMPHREYS and Miss EDDY are "having an affair with each other".

It is noted that [REDACTED] has advised that HUMPHREYS has no romantic interest in Miss EDDY and that Miss EDDY resides with RYAN, her business manager. [REDACTED] has indicated, however, that HUMPHREYS has been interested in the advancement of the career of Miss EDDY as a favor to his associate, RYAN. It is also noted that [REDACTED] has advised that HUMPHREYS has been in the company of Miss EDDY and RYAN on numerous occasions in recent years and that they are well known to each other.

As an indication of the newspaper articles which appeared following the appearance of EDWARD C. RYAN and PEARL EDDY before the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, the following are set out.

The "Chicago Sun-Times" in its Four Star Final of October 28, 1965, contained an article entitled "U.S. Jury Summons Singer in New HUMPHREYS Probe". This article written by reporters MAX SONDERBY and SANDY SMITH is quoted herein below in its entirety:

"A brunet singer was among the first witnesses subpoenaed Wednesday in a new federal grand jury investigation of the crime syndicate's fixer, Murray Humphreys.

"Called before the jury amid tight secrecy was the slim chanteuse, Pearl Eddy, 33, who has appeared in Chicago night clubs.

"Aides of U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan refused to discuss her role in the probe of the affairs of the white-haired, 66-year-old Humphreys.

"The new inquiry reportedly involves possibly contempt of court and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

"It was said to have stemmed from Humphrey's efforts to escape a previous investigation of syndicate rackets.

CG 92-348

"Two other witnesses also were summoned before the grand jury. It was learned that they were:

"Edward Ryan, a former night club impresario and associate of Humphreys. Ryan was identified as a contact man between Humphreys and Frank (Buster) Wortman, the Chicago mob's overseer of rackets in Downstate Illinois.

"Miss Johnnie Williams, 60, a maid in Humphreys' apartment high in the east tower of Marina City.

"Humphreys' flight from Chicago last June touched off Wednesday's grand jury inquiry, it was reported.

"He ducked out of town June 24, after he was subpoenaed to testify in the grand jury investigation that caused the jailing of the crime syndicate boss, Momo Salvatore (Moe) Giancana.

"Humphreys took off in the apparent fear that he would suffer the fate of Giancana, who was sent to jail for disobeying a court order to talk to the jury. Immunity from prosecution had been given to Giancana by the jury.

"Federal Bureau of Investigation agents seized Humphreys in Norman, Okla., less than 24 hours after he failed to show up as a witness.

"The subpoena calling Ryan before the grand jury stirred reports that the new investigation touched on Humphreys' activities as a gang fixer in the courts and at the Illinois General Assembly."

The "Chicago American" in its Three-Five Star Final of October 28, 1965, carried an article entitled "Three Subpoenaed in Probe of Mob Here".

CG 92-348

"Mystery surrounds the roles of three persons, including a woman pianist-singer, who have been subpoenaed in a new federal grand jury probe of crime syndicate activities.

"Also clothed in secrecy is the area of illegal activity and identity of syndicate gangsters who are targets of the investigation.

"Among the three first witnesses called in the probe is Pearl Eddy, 33, who has appeared here in night clubs and hotel cafes for several years.

"The two other witnesses are the pianist-singer's manager, Edward Ryan, an associate of hoodlums, and Miss Johnnie Williams, 60, who has served as a maid for several hoodlums.

"More Subpenas Planned

"Aids of United States Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan declined to say how the three were linked to the investigation. They indicated that more witnesses would be subpoenaed before the grand jury is convened to hear testimony.

"Speculation was made that the three have been summoned in a renewed investigation into the crime syndicate's fixer, Murray (the Camel) Humphreys.

"Ryan a former night club impresario, is an associate of Humphreys. Ryan also has been identified by investigators as a contact man between Humphreys and Frank (Buster) Wortman, the crime syndicate's boss of rackets in downstate Illinois,

"Miss Williams currently is a maid in Humphreys' apartment in the east tower of Marina City.

CG 92-348

"Disappears in June

"Humphreys disappeared from Chicago last June after he was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury that brought about the jailing of crime syndicate boss Salvatore (Momo) Giancana, who had refused to testify.

"FBI agents seized Humphreys in Norman, Okla., less than 24 hours after he failed to appear before the jury and returned him to Chicago. He was held in $100,000 bond, but was freed after making another jury appearance.

"One of the main witnesses before the grand jury during the Giancana investigation was Giancana's girl friend, Phyllis McGuire, member of a sisters singing team."

It is noted that photographs of Miss EDDY accompanied the above two articles.

This is to advise that Murray L. Humphreys, one of Chicago's leading racketeers, was pronounced dead in his Chicago apartment between 9 and 10 p.m. on the evening of November 23, 1965, after he had been released on bond following his arrest by Agents of the Bureau during the afternoon of November 23, 1965.

On November 23, 1965, a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago returned an indictment charging Humphreys with perjury during his appearance before a Federal Grand Jury this past summer. This grand jury was inquiring into Chicago's organized crime. Agents of our Chicago Office went to Humphreys' Chicago apartment on the afternoon of November 23, 1965, to arrest Humphreys. Upon arrival at the apartment, the Agents thoroughly identified themselves on four occasions and announced that they were there to arrest Humphreys on a charge of perjury. After identifying themselves, as indicated above, Humphreys refused the Agents admission to his apartment. When the Agents made an initial effort to forcibly enter, Humphreys pulled the door open and stood in the doorway with a .38 caliber revolver in his right hand pointed at the Agents. Agents continued to identify themselves and ordered Humphreys to drop the gun. Humphreys' response indicated that he intended to shoot the Agents.

As a result of facing the Agents' guns, Humphreys finally lowered his weapon and was placed under arrest. He refused to cooperate in a search of his person and bit an Agent. He was permitted to call an attorney as a result of his request. Approximately $25,000 and two weapons were located in his apartment during a search incidental to the arrest. Humphreys was photographed and fingerprinted and delivered to the United States Marshal's Office, where Humphreys' attorney indicated arrangements would be made for Humphreys' immediate release on bond. It is to be noted that Humphreys stated to Agents in the United States Marshal's Office that he had never been in better health and that he had recently played golf for the first time in twenty years.

Humphreys was found in his Marina City apartment in Chicago, Illinois, by his brother, Jack Humphreys, at approximately 9 p.m. on November 23, 1965. Emergency ambulance equipment responded to Jack Humphreys' call for assistance. Humphreys, however, was pronounced dead of natural causes, possibly as a result of a heart attack.

Murray Humphreys, 66, Chicago Underworld Figure

CHICAGO (AP)—Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, reputed political fixer for the Chicago underworld dating to the days of scarface Al Capone, is dead of a heart attack hours after his latest skirmish with the law. He was 66 years old.

Humphreys died alone last night in his plush 51st-floor apartment in the fashionable Marina Towers in downtown Chicago. He had suffered from a heart ailment for many years.

In an ironic twist to Humphreys' stylist form of life, he died while vacuuming his apartment floor.

Seven hours earlier FBI agents crashed through his apartment door and disarmed him.

Humphreys was indicted shortly before the FBI's arrival by a federal grand jury investigating organized crime in Chicago. Often branded as the "bag man" of the crime syndicate, Humphreys was indicted on charges of perjury.

When Humphreys refused to allow the federal agents entrance, they crashed down the door and encountered Humphreys pointing a loaded pistol on them.

"Murray . . . , you know we're FBI agents," one federal man pleaded. "Put down the gun."

The agents then disarmed

Humphreys and took him to a federal judge. Humphreys posted $4,500 bond and returned home.

Seven hours later, Humphreys, a bachelor, collapsed on his living room floor and died. His body was discovered by his brother, Jack Humphreys.

Humphreys, who was born in Chicago, was arrested the first time in 1916 on a petty larceny charge and was sentenced to six months in jail. He was arrested many times and in 1933 he served one year in prison for carrying a concealed weapon. Later he was sentenced to 18 months in prison and fined $5,000 after pleading guilty to income tax evasion in 1933.

He testified during a U.S. Board of Tax Appeals hearing in 1939 that he was "arrested many times; every time a policeman saw me, they picked me up for something or other."

With reference to our conversation today, the following Agents participated in the apprehension of Humphreys at his apartment in Chicago on November 23, 1965. These Agents are [REDACTED] Marshall Rutland and [REDACTED] who are all assigned to our Chicago Office.

As you will recall from the detailed letter which I sent to you earlier today, these Agents went to Humphreys' apartment in Chicago to arrest him, identified themselves on four occasions and announced they were there to arrest Humphreys on a charge of perjury. When they were refused admission, following this identification, they made an effort to forcibly enter Humphreys' apartment. Upon gaining entrance to the apartment, they were confronted by Humphreys who held a .38 caliber revolver in his right hand pointed at the Agents. The Agents, who had drawn their own weapons, ordered Humphreys to drop his weapon and submit to arrest. As a result of the manner in which these Agents conducted themselves in this critical situation, Humphreys complied with the Agents' instructions and was taken into custody.

(b)(7)(C)9- [REDACTED]
At 11:20 P.M. this date SA [REDACTED] Chicago Office, called and advised SA [REDACTED], night supervisor, Special Investigative Division, that information has just been received that Humphreys had died in his apartment sometime between 9 and 10:00 P.M. tonight. [REDACTED] advised that the exact cause of death is not known at this time, however, it appears that Humphreys was stricken by a heart attack.

It is noted that Humphreys was arrested earlier today in Chicago by Bureau Agents based on a warrant charging him with perjury. At the time of his arrest, Humphreys refused to admit the Agents to his apartment and after properly identifying themselves as FBI Agents, gained entrance to the apartment by forcing open the door and effecting his arrest. At the time the Agents entered the apartment, Humphreys pointed a loaded revolver at the Agents, however the gun was taken away from him without any incident. According to Chicago Office, Humphreys was to have been indicted by a Special Federal Grand Jury on 11-26-65 for assaulting a Federal officer.

[REDACTED] Mr. Wick and Assistant Director Gale were advised of the above.

ACTION:

Chicago has been instructed to keep the Bureau fully advised of developments in this matter by telephone and teletype.

Gangster Murray Humphreys, 66, died Tuesday night, apparently of a heart attack, a few hours after he fought with FBI agents and threatened to shoot them.

His body was found on the living room floor of his Marina City apartment where earlier in the day he had brandished a gun at the G-men who arrested him on a perjury charge.

Humphrey's brother, Ernest, a gambling boss who uses the name of Jack Wright, found the body at 8:50 p.m.

Called Heart Attack

That was about four hours after Humphreys went free on bail he posted at the U.S. Courthouse in the perjury case.

The death of Humphreys, the fixer for the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, was attributed to a heart attack by Dr. Robert L. Robins.

The physician, who lives in Marina City, was called to the apartment by a fire department inhalator squad that worked over Humphreys for 25 minutes but was unable to revive him.

The inhalator squad had been summoned to the apartment by Ernest Humphreys, police said.

Police Lt. James Murphy said there was no evidence that Humphreys had been slain. Firemen reported that Humphreys had sprawled over a cocktail table and struck his head on a cabinet.

A vacuum cleaner was near Humphreys' body. His brother told police that the hoodlum liked to vacuum his rug and probably was doing that when he was felled by the heart attack.

Dr. Robins said he had known Humphreys "as a neighbor for about a year. He had discussed with me that he had trouble with his heart."

The doctor said when he arrived in Humphreys' apartment, "I examined him and he was obviously dead."

When Humphreys fell, he hit his head "on a piece of furniture and received a small laceration just below his right ear." The laceration "I'm sure had no effect" on his death, said the doctor.

He said the battle with FBI agents earlier in the day might have been "a factor in the precipitation of the heart attack."

The death was, "to me, obviously a coronary thrombosis—a heart attack. There was no reason to suspect any foul play," said the doctor.

A few hours before his death, The Sun-Times learned, Humphreys told government officials who approved his bond:

"I never felt better in my life. I was down in Hot Springs (Ark.) a few days ago, playing golf. It was the first time in the last 20 years that I was able to do that."

The arrest of Humphreys came after a guns-drawn showdown with Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in his 51st-floor apartment in the east tower of Marina City.

For almost a minute, after the agents crashed through the door of Humphreys' apartment with a warrant for his arrest, the gangster and the agents faced each other with revolvers in their hands.

Humphreys told the agents: "Don't come in here or I'll kill you."

Finally, Humphreys lowered his .38-caliber revolver and the agents wrested it from him.

Then he said:

"If you guys had been coppers, I would have killed you."

Bites Agent On Hand

Seconds later, angered by a search of his apartment, Humphreys attacked one of the agents and bit him on the hand. Humphreys then attempted to get another .38-caliber revolver he had in a desk drawer.

In a brief struggle, the agents subdued and handcuffed him. He was arrested on a charge of perjury before a federal grand jury investigating the crime syndicate.

ment, The Sun-Times learned. The money had been put in a closet safe by Humphreys, the mob's master fixer.

At the orders of federal prosecutors, the FBI agents seized the money, which was in $20 and $50 denominations.

Humphreys was charged with perjury in an indictment voted secretly Tuesday by a federal grand jury. The indictment was suppressed in U.S. District Court and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Humphreys.

Armed with the warrant, FBI agents went to Humphreys' apartment to arrest him.

The agents knocked at the apartment door, but the gangster refused to open it, even after the agents identified themselves and told him they had a warrant for his arrest.

When Humphreys persisted in his refusal to let them in, the agents broke through the door to find Humphreys waving a gun at them.

Humphreys was believed to have put up a fight in an effort to forestall a search of his apartment, which is wired with burglar alarms.

It was reported that Humphreys often set off the alarms by mistake, sometimes arousing other Marina City residents from their sleep.

The investigation that led to Humphreys' perjury indictment was conducted by Asst. U.S. Attorneys David Schippers and Sam J. Betar.

Schippers is chief of the organized crime prosecutions unit investigating the crime syndicate.

In the rackets inquiry, Humphreys had out-foxed himself.

He fled from Chicago last June to avoid a grand jury subpoena and was arrested in Oklahoma by the FBI.

Explaining that flight to a grand jury later, Humphreys involved himself in the perjury case.

Both of Humphreys' .38-caliber revolvers were seized by FBI agents.

Humphreys was locked up for more than two hours before he went free in $4,500 bond on the perjury charge.

The swift arrest of Humphreys caught his lawyers and his bailbondsmen by surprise. No bondsman was available to put up his bail. His lawyers said they borrowed the bond fee of $450—10 per cent of the bond—from a Loop restaurateur.

Humphreys was accused of perjury in his testimony about his flight from Chicago last June to avoid an appearance before the grand jury probing the crime syndicate.

Humphreys fled from Chicago to Norman, Okla., apparently in fear that he might suffer the fate of the syndicate boss, Momo Salvatore (Moe) Giancana.

Giancana was jailed June 1 for defying the grand jury by refusing to testify after being granted immunity.

On June 23, Humphreys was summoned to appear before the grand jury. He was arrested June 26 by the FBI in Oklahoma.

Asked About Rackets

Humphreys was called before the grand jury again on Aug. 10 for questioning about syndicate rackets and his flight from Chicago in June.

The indictment voted by the grand jury Tuesday charged that Humphreys lied when he testified that:

1 He did not know, when he left Chicago in June, that the grand jury had summoned him again as a witness.

2 On June 24, he was not hiding from FBI agents seeking to serve him with the grand jury subpoena.

He was not in his Marina City apartment on June 24 after he had purchased airline tickets for the trip to Oklahoma.

The indictment showed that the government would attempt to prove that Humphreys knew the grand jury had called him, and that he hid from FBI agents and was in his apartment after buying the airline tickets.

Even before he threatened FBI agents with a gun, the disclosures in the federal investigation virtually had destroyed Humphreys' reputation as an adroit fixer.

At one point, federal attorneys obtained court permission to disclose Humphreys' grand jury testimony to show that he had been haggling with the jurors.

A transcript of his grand jury interrogation revealed that the FBI, along with prosecutors Schippers and Betar, knew all about some of Humphreys' fixing schemes.

The Fifth Amendment

To questions about fixing and his meetings with syndicate bosses, Humphreys consistently invoked the Fifth Amendment, claiming fear of self-incrimination.

But the perjury indictment disclosed that he had lectured the grand jury at length—thus snaring himself in the perjury case—in attempting to explain his trip to Oklahoma.

"Here we go again," said Murray Humphreys as he signed a bond in clerk's office of U.S. District Court late Tuesday afternoon. (Sun-Times Photo)

Chicago Mobster Falls Dead After Pulling His Gun on FBI

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (UPI) — Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, reputed political fixer for Chicago's crime syndicate, died tonight of a heart attack several hours after he tried to hold off FBI agents with a loaded revolver.

The white-haired 66-year-old elder statesman of Chicago's mob collapsed and died in his 51st floor apartment in the skyscraper Marina Towers.

Humphreys was arrested earlier in the day after FBI agents broke into his apartment and were confronted with a .38-caliber revolver and a defiant Humphreys.

The agents overpowered the aging mobster and handcuffed him. He was arrested on a charge of lying to a Federal grand jury investigating the crime syndicate. He posted bond and returned home.

[Police said Humphreys' body was found in the living room by his brother, Jack Humphreys, the Associated Press reported. Police said it appeared Humphreys had tumbled over a couch and struck his head against a table.]

The mild-mannered but tough gangster traced his mob lineage to the old Al Capone gang.

In his latest scrap with the law, Humphreys had been dodging an appearance before a Federal grand jury that helped send Sam Giancana, reputed leader of Chicago's crime syndicate, to jail.

Humphreys, apparently feeling the same fate was in store for him, testified before the Federal jury and then skipped town. He was later arrested by FBI agents in Norman, Okla.

Humphreys was escorted back to Chicago and released on $100,000 bond. Today's indictment charged him with fleeing Chicago to avoid further testimony.

Humphreys, distinguished among Chicago mobsters because he was one of the few who possessed a high school education, was the shadowy man-behind-the-scenes in the crime syndicate's high command.

He always operated as an influence peddler and fixer on both state and national levels. His real name was Llewelyn Morris Humphreys and he was known to police as probably the only Welshman in the Mafia.

He was first arrested in 1916 and sent to the Bridewell (Chicago) jail as a common thief.

With the coming of prohibition, Humphreys rose rapidly in the ranks of the old Capone gang. He became the mob's chief in union rackets and held this post throughout many changes in leadership.

Camel's Soft Life Plagued by 'Feds'

BY JERRY ACKERMAN

ALIVE, MURRAY [THE CAMEL] Humphreys traveled first class. This was expected of the man who inherited control of the crime syndicate from Al Capone.

In death, he rode the 51 floors from his Marina City apartment for the last time on a cot in an elevator, and was carried feet first out a back door.

Humphreys, 66, carried with him into death a master mind loaded with every detail on the workings of organized crime that anyone would want to know. He was the statesman, the diplomat, the political fixer, the "brains" of the mob here.

Humphreys was a corporate kind of mobster. He hadn't as much action in years as he did yesterday when Federal Bureau of Investigation agents confronted him with a warrant for his arrest on perjury charges. Perhaps the excitement was too much for him.

His life in recent years had been comfortable. With the skyscraper apartment for his office and a $250,000 Key Biscayne, Fla. mansion for a retreat, Humphreys traveled a circuit that included Miami, New York City, Washington, Chicago, Hot Springs, Ark., and Las Vegas, Nev.

AS THE SYNDICATE'S roving ambassador of intelligence his mission was to call the shots, pay off the right people, say the right words when they counted, and plan strategy.

Monuments to his success include:

The title of Public Enemy No. 1, awarded him in 1933 after Capone turned over the syndicate's reins to Humphreys upon being imprisoned for income tax evasion. Richard B. Ogilvie, Cook county sheriff, tagged Humphreys as "the ambassador of the Chicago syndicate" and "the real brains of the outfit."

Red-carpet treatment by his contemporaries wherever he went, from notorious restaurant hangouts here to congressional corridors in Washington, where he often was seen talking with a Chicago representative.

A contempt citation by the entire United States Senate, in 1952, for his refusal to answer questions in a racketeers subcommittee investigation.

HUMPHREYS WAS BORN in a modest neighborhood on the near north side of Welsh parents—his given name was Llewelyn Morris Humphreys—and attended Haven Elementary school, tho he did not finish.

Humphreys had his first entries in police records at 16, for burglary and petty larceny. He went on to muscle into the laundry, dry cleaning, and dairy businesses.

In 1929, he was arrested for a $66,000 holdup of an Astor street doctor and his wife, and later he was captured in a gun battle as he ran from the home of a union leader who had just been robbed.

On election night, Nov. 4, 1930, he was among more than a dozen Capone lieutenants questioned and locked up after police broke into a victory party for Roland V. Libonati, then just elected a state representative, and found 10 pistols atop a piano. Libonati was released without charge.

Humphreys was sentenced to prison only ~~once~~, when he failed to report on his income tax return the $50,000 he collected for kidnaping Robert G. Fitchie, president of the milk wagon drivers' union. He pleaded guilty and in 1934 was sent to Leavenworth penitentiary for 18 months.

Before going, Humphreys told reporters: "While I'm down there, I intend to study English and maybe a little geometry." Whether he took mathematics courses is unknown, but his English was impeccable, especially noticable in an underworld filled with lingual misfits.

AFTER THOSE ACTION-FILLED years Humphreys had both the knowledge and respect to take over as the syndicate's fixer. With scores of contacts among politicians, labor leaders, and business men, Humphreys knew whom to see to get things done.

His style of living was ever on the upgrade. He liked camel's-hair coats, but theories that this was how he got his nickname were debunked by insiders who said it evolved from his name—Humphreys, to "Hump," to "Camel."

He knew how to take care of himself and his friends. He was credited in federal court testimony with getting Tony Accardo his $65,000-a-year beer salesman's job.

As control of the syndicate was quietly transferred to Momo Salvatore [Sam] Giancana, Humphreys came to relish his life as senior adviser. Neighbors around his Florida estate knew him and his second wife as "Mr. and Mrs. Louis Humphreys" and said they contributed heavily to charity.

It was, in part, the adviser role that tripped him up, and led to the confrontation that preceded his death by a matter of hours.

Humphreys' vast store of criminal knowledge was needed by a federal grand jury investigating the syndicate here. Last June 25, when the jurors wanted Humphreys to talk to them, he suddenly made a trip to Oklahoma.

WHEN HE TRIED later to explain to the jury why he didn't keep his appointment, government prosecutors decided he was lying and pressed for the perjury charges contained in the warrants he was served yesterday.

Describing later how the federal agents searched him and his apartment during the arrest, Humphreys said:

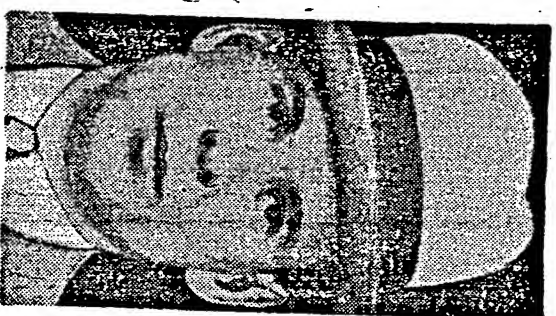

"They got everything they could get their hands on."

The only thing they couldn't get was his treasure of syndicate secrets. Death enforced the cardinal tenet of the mob's code—silence.

The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Sir:

(b)(7)(c)

Enclosed is a clipping from the Thanksgiving Day issue of the Miami Herald in which the author, Mr. Gene Miller, quotes some remarks made by an FBI agent at the time Murray (The Camel) Humphreys was arrested. I have indicated by red marking pen where the alleged remark is quoted. Unfortunately there is a typographical error also, but after a moment's reflection it is obvious that instead of "we've" it should read "we're".

Now I don't doubt for a moment that there are some FBI agents that use this kind of language, but most that I've met do not. I certainly would not regard it as typical, if it happened at all.

Reporting the incident in this manner is, in my opinion, another blow at the honor and high principles proclaimed by the FBI.

If it is at all possible for you to refute this remark attributed to one of your agents, I wish you would do so.

Very truly yours,

Except for That Garage Affair, More Might Mourn Humphreys

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

The Gentleman Farmer of Key Biscayne is dead and if Scarface Al Capone's boys hadn't lined up seven gangsters against a garage wall for what the world remembers as the St. Valentine's Day Massacre, a few more mourners might weep today.

For Murray (The Camel) Humphreys is gone, presumably to that great Mafia in the sky. Or elsewhere.

When he cultivated his garden and carefully pruned the rose bushes at his $200,000 home at 210 Harbor Dr., before his divorced spouse took it as part of the settlement, Murray never looked the part of a Capone torpedo.

Yet he once was identified as one of the gunmen that cold February day in Chicago in the long ago of 1929.

A detective chief called him into his office.

"Get out of town. Your day is over and you had better recognize it."

At that moment Llewelyn Morris Humphreys, whose pals called him "Hump," a nickname which naturally evolved into the "Camel," had the distinction and title of Chicago's "Public Enemy No. 1."

There is no evidence Humphreys ever took the advice of the detective chief. To the contrary, there is great evidence the chief's judgment was premature.

Not until Tuesday, 32 years after the confrontation, did Humphrey's "day" come.

Murray Humphreys
... gentleman farmer

He died of a heart attack, seven hours after federal agents crashed down the door of his 51st floor Marina City apartment and encountered Humphreys pointing a loaded pistol at them.

"For Christ's sake, you know we've FBI agents," one man pleaded. "Put down the gun." Murray complied.

He was 66 years old and he first landed in jail nearly 50 years ago as a common thief.

He traced his mob lineage back to the old Al Capone gang, and as a grade school drop-out, he made his mark in the underworld by virtue of his quick wit and cool toughness.

Oddly, he spoke good English rather than the "dese, dem and doze" jargon of his colleagues.

Like the best of them, he served time only for theft and income tax evasion. He was considered a slick diplomat and oft times he rendered his services as a mediator between rival gangs.

He was far from retired, a myth he wished to perpetuate as "Mister Lew Hart," the shy Key Biscayne man who paid all his bills in cash and on time.

92-2077-11
ENCLOSURE

At last report from Chicago, he was still the crime syndicate's master fixer, the one man who could "reach out for" a judge, or a police official, or, allegedly, even a congressman.

His share of mob income was calculated to be upwards of $100,000 a year.

In the year's that followed his 14½ months in Leavenworth Penitentiary for income tax evasion in the mid 30s, Humphreys was accused of masterminding a $2 million extortion racket from the motion picture industry.

Then there was court testimony that he had put his pal Anthony Accardo on the payroll of a beer company as a $65,000 a year salesman.

His trips to Miami were more frequent perhaps than the local police cared to admit — or knew.

He could generally be counted on to deliver the "annual stipend" to Al Capone's widow here. When here, he avoided nearly all his hoodlum friends. He remained aloof.

And it was with considerable embarrassment he crossed a yellow traffic line in September, 1964, and had to subject his car to a sheriff search.

The police found a beer can opener, a dance favor and a broken trouser suspender.

His last chapter came with the G-men Tuesday. The silver-haired Humphreys apparently saw himself heading for jail in the same fashion as Sam (Moe) Giancana.

Giancana appeared before a federal grand jury and refused to testify about the syndicate even though granted immunity.

A federal judge jailed him June 1 "for the duration of the grand jury — or until he chooses to answer." Moe, the reputed syndicate boss, is still behind bars.

Humphreys tried to dodge a grand jury for a while. But eventually, after being arrested in Oklahoma, he testified. Carefully, he relied upon the Fifth Amendment.

But even so, he told some lies and that's why the FBI agents came calling Tuesday with a perjury indictment.

After his release on bond, he returned to his apartment, and there he collapsed and lay still on the carpet with his face down.

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

(b)(7)(C)

I received your letter of November 26th, with enclosure, and want to thank you for the confidence you have mentioned in the personnel of the FBI.

With respect to the arrest of Murray Humphreys, I assure you that our Agents did not use the language reported. Making an arrest is a serious matter and FBI Agents are thoroughly trained to be businesslike, well-mannered, efficient and to be prepared to use sufficient force when necessary. On no occasion are such gratuitous comments warranted.

Sincerely yours,

DETAILS: AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

On November 23, 1965, the Federal Grand Jury, Northern District of Illinois, returned an indictment of MURRAY L. HUMPHREYS charging that he committed perjury on August 10, 1965, before the Federal Grand Jury when he claimed not to know he was wanted before the Federal Grand Jury when he left Chicago on June 24, 1965; that he hid from FBI Agents on that date and that he did not return to his apartment on June 24, 1965, after he purchased an airline ticket.

Based on this indictment, a bench warrant calling for the arrest of HUMPHREYS was issued by the United States District Court at 2:30 p.m., on November 23, 1965.

At 2:37 PM, November 23, 1965, SAs [REDACTED] MARSHALL E. RUTLAND and [REDACTED] approached Apartment 5131, Marina Towers East, 300 North State Street, and rang the door bell to that apartment. After waiting approximately thirty seconds, SA [REDACTED] announced, in a loud clear voice, that they were Agents of the FBI and that Mr. HUMPHREYS should open the door as there was a bench warrant outstanding for his arrest. This was immediately repeated on two additional occasions by SA [REDACTED] while he knocked loudly on the apartment door. SA [REDACTED] also announced in a loud and clear voice that if HUMPHREYS did not open the door the Agents would force entry. Following this, SA [REDACTED] again knocked on the door and stated his identity as an Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Since no answer was heard from the interior of HUMPHREYS' apartment, SA [REDACTED] kicked the door without effecting entry. At this time SA [REDACTED] noted a shadow pass across the "peep hole" located in the upper center of the door. SAs [REDACTED] and RUTLAND then attempted to break the door in with their shoulders. SA RUTLAND then stated, "Mr. HUMPHREYS, this is the FBI. There is a warrant outstanding for your arrest. Open the door or we'll have to force our way in". Hearing no response, SA RUTLAND then kicked the door on two occasions. On the second kick, the door to HUMPHREYS' apartment gave, at the latch side, about 3/8 ths of one inch. It appeared that the next blow against the door would break it open. At that instant the door was flung open from the inside, and HUMPHREYS was observed standing in the doorway with a revolver in his right hand, pointed at the Agents.

and RUTLAND heard HUMPHREYS say, "Come in the door and I'll shoot". The Agents again stated they were coming through the door and for HUMPHREYS to drop the gun. SA RUTLAND shouted to HUMPHREYS, "You know me MURRAY, RUTLAND, FBI, now drop it". SA [REDACTED] then pushed the door open, at which time all of the Agents could see that HUMPHREYS still had the gun in his hand. HUMPHREYS held the gun in a lowered position and as the Agents rushed through the door, HUMPHREYS dropped the gun to the floor. As the Agents entered the apartment, HUMPHREYS moved instantly toward a closet door on his right and was observed by SA RUTLAND to lock this closet door. HUMPHREYS was placed under physical arrest and taken to the living room of the apartment, where a preliminary search was made for weapons. At this time SAs RUTLAND and [REDACTED] advised HUMPHREYS that he was under arrest on a charge of perjury and that he need make no statement. He was told by these Agents that he could have an attorney and that any statement he might make could be used against him in a court of law. At this time, HUMPHREYS interrupted the Agents and said that he wanted to call his attorney, MAURY WALSH. At the same time HUMPHREYS refused to surrender the contents of his pockets with the exception of some U. S. currency, which he threw on a table in the living room in the amount of $2,530.85.

HUMPHREYS was asked if he had any other guns in the apartment. He said that he had three guns in all, one in the end table next to the sofa and one in the hall closet. He again refused to surrender the contents of his pockets. At that time he was allowed to make a phone call in which he asked to speak to Mr. WALSH. He then said, "Who's around?". Then he spoke to someone he called GEORGE. Following the conversation between HUMPHREYS and GEORGE, SA RUTLAND took the phone and spoke to a man identified by HUMPHREYS as attorney GEORGE CALLAGHAN. SA RUTLAND advised this individual that HUMPHREYS was under arrest on a charge of perjury and that the arresting Agents were in the process of making a search incidental to arrest. SA RUTLAND advised that HUMPHREYS had refused to allow the arresting Agents to search his person. SA RUTLAND suggested that Mr. CALLAGHAN advise his client, HUMPHREYS, to comply with this search in order to avoid the necessity of the use of force to effect this search. During this call, SA [REDACTED] arrived at the apartment.

(b)(7)(c)

Upon completion of this call, HUMPHREYS again refused to submit to a search of his person and necessary force was used to effect the search. No additional weapons were located as the result of the search of HUMPHREYS' person, but he again indicated that he had three guns in the apartment. The second gun was located in the end table just west of the sofa by SA [REDACTED] and HUMPHREYS said that the third gun was in the locked closet. A large ring of ten to fifteen keys was located in HUMPHREYS' hand, which he violently attempted to retain. HUMPHREYS said, "You'll have to kill me to get these keys".

During the course of the search, it was determined by SAs RUTLAND and [REDACTED] that one of these keys opened the locked closet and another key opened a metal safe in this locked closet. SA RUTLAND observed a quantity of U. S. currency on the shelf of the left side of the closet. On the same shelf were 17 pieces of paper which bore written notations.

At 3:05 PM attorney GEORGE CALLAGHAN arrived at the HUMPHREYS' apartment and was permitted to speak to HUMPHREYS. HUMPHREYS directed CALLAGHAN to watch over the search of the closet. CALLAGHAN, upon entry to the apartment, was advised by SA [REDACTED] that HUMPHREYS had been arrested on a bench warrant, charging him with perjury. After conferring with HUMPHREYS, CALLAGHAN inquired of SA [REDACTED] whether this arrest had been made on a suppressed warrant. SA [REDACTED] advised that he did not know.

SAs [REDACTED] and RUTLAND continued to search the closet and opened the safe with one of the keys found on HUMPHREYS' person. When the safe was opened, these Agents observed a large quantity of U. S. currency. SA RUTLAND immediately contacted Assistant United States Attorney DAVID P. SCHIPPERS by telephone and was advised to confiscate these and all other large quantities of money which might be located. The safe was searched by SAs RUTLAND and [REDACTED] in the presence of attorney CALLAGHAN. SA [REDACTED] took the large quantity of cash to the front room, where SA [REDACTED] counted the money in the presence of HUMPHREYS. HUMPHREYS stated that this money was to pay his taxes and added that the bundle contained $20,000.00. The count by SA [REDACTED] verified that this figure was correct.

CG 74-217

(H)(7)(C)

SA [REDACTED] found two plain envelopes in the lock box, each of which contained $1,000.00. In addition, he found a wallet containing. $321.00.

At 3:35 PM an inventory receipt for the property seized was furnished to HUMPHREYS.

At 3:46 PM, HUMPHREYS was allowed to lock his apartment doors before being transported to the Chicago Office.

Prior to leaving the apartment, HUMPHREYS stated, "The fight is just started and I'm sure glad you weren't the cops because I would probably have shot you."

En route to the office in a Bureau car, HUMPHREYS stated, "You want me to wait to start my fight in court but you admire me for starting it right now". HUMPHREYS also stated that he had been seated at the table wrapping Christmas gifts when "I heard someone at the door". He said that he heard the knocking at the door and also said he heard the kicks on the door. RUTLAND commented that he tried to break the door down with his shoulder and HUMPHREYS said that he noticed this different sound and at that time went and got his gun. He denied having heard the Agents announcing their identity or the fact that a warrant existed calling for his arrest. He said to SA [REDACTED] on arrival at the Chicago Office at 3:55 PM, "You guys are framing me, I've covered my tracks. It would take HOUDINI to catch me."

HUMPHREYS was fingerprinted and photographed at the Chicago Office between 3:55 PM and 4:20 PM, at which time he was taken to the United States Marshal by SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

During the course of the search, SA [REDACTED] found and seized the following revolvers:

- (1) The Smith & Wesson .38 caliber snubnose revolver, Serial Number 371177, which was dropped by HUMPHREYS just inside the apartment door.

2. A Smith & Wesson .38 caliber hammerless snubnose, Serial Number 22797.

LLEWELYN MORRIS HUMPHREYS,
ALSO KNOWN AS MURRAY HUMPHREYS

NO.

(Vios.: Title 18, United States
Code, Section 1621)

The SEPTEMBER 1965 GRAND JURY charges:

1. On or about the 10th day of August, 1965, at Chicago, Illinois, within the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, a competent tribunal, to-wit: a Grand Jury of the United States of America, duly impaneled and sworn in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, was conducting an investigation to determine whether there had been committed in the Northern District of Illinois, violations of Federal criminal statutes, said investigation being a case in which a law of the United States authorized an oath to be administered.

2. During the course of said Grand Jury investigation, the inquiry was directed to possible violations of Title 18, United States Code, Section 371 (conspiracy); Title 18, United States Code, Section 403 (contempt); Title 18, United States Code, Section 1503 (obstruction of justice); Title 18, United States Code, Section 1952 (interstate travel in aid of racketeering); and other Federal criminal statutes.

3. During the course of said Grand Jury inquiry, it became and was material to ascertain, among other things:

A. Whether on June 24, 1965 the defendant, LLEWELYN MORRIS HUMPHREYS, also known as MURRAY HUMPHREYS, knew that a Federal Grand Jury for the Northern District of Illinois was seeking his appearance before it on June 25, 1965.

B. Whether said defendant knew before he left Chicago, Illinois, on the evening of June 24, 1965, that Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had attempted to notify him at his apartment that they had a subpoena calling for his appearance before a Federal Grand Jury, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., on June 25, 1965.

C. Whether said defendant was in his apartment at Chicago, Illinois on the afternoon of June 24, 1965 when Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation attempted to serve a subpoena calling for his appearance before a Federal Grand Jury, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., on June 25, 1965.

4. On August 10, 1965,

LLEWELYN MORRIS HUMPHREYS,
ALSO KNOWN AS MURRAY HUMPHREYS,

the defendant herein, having duly taken an oath before said Grand Jury that, as a witness before said Grand Jury, he would testify truly, did then and there wilfully, knowingly and contrary to said oath, state certain material matters which he did not believe to be true, and more particularly, as follows:

A. On August 10, 1965 said defendant testified in substance that the first knowledge he had that the Grand Jury was looking for him was subsequent to his arrival in Norman, Oklahoma, on the morning of June 25, 1965.

The said testimony was false, as said defendant then and there well knew, in that no later than the afternoon of June 24, 1965, while he was in Chicago, Illinois, defendant herein knew that the Grand Jury was seeking his appearance as a witness on the morning of June 25, 1965.

B. On August 10, 1965 said defendant testified in substance that on June 24, 1965 he was not hiding from Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and was not attempting to evade said agents.

The said testimony was false, as said defendant then and there well knew, in that he did hide from Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on June 24, 1965 and did attempt to evade said agents at that time.

C. On August 10, 1965 said defendant testified in substance that he was not present in his apartment at Chicago, Illinois after he picked up his airline ticket on June 24, 1965.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On November 23, 1965 a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, Illinois returned a one-count indictment against Murray Humphreys charging him with perjury before the Grand Jury with respect to his testimony as to his whereabouts and activities when S.A. [REDACTED] and S.A. [REDACTED] of your Chicago office attempted to serve him with a Grand Jury subpoena. (Humphreys, a local crime syndicate hoodlum, secretly left Chicago and travelled to Norman, Oklahoma on the day he was to appear before our Grand Jury. He was later arrested there by your Agents on a bench warrant issued by our District Court).

As you know, evidence in perjury cases is often difficult to obtain and prosecution is complex. Therefore, you and the Bureau are to be congratulated for the thorough, diligent and highly imaginative investigation conducted by S.A. [REDACTED] S.A. [REDACTED] and particularly S.A. [REDACTED] who, under the supervision of S.A. [REDACTED] developed this very important case.

At the time of his arrest, Humphreys was armed and resistant. In effectuating this arrest, S.A. [REDACTED] S.A. Marshall E. Rutland, S.A. [REDACTED] and S.A. [REDACTED] displayed the outstanding bravery, courage and restraint which has led to the great reputation of the Bureau.
